The Prayer of Manasses from the King James Version

The Prayer of Manasses (or Manasseh) is supposed to have been the prayer of Manasses, King of Judah, when he repented from his idolatrous ways when he was held captive by the Assyrians in Babylon. Manasseh's evil ways are recorded in 2 Kings 21:1-18, and the account of his repentance is recorded in 2 Chronicles 33:10-17. The Prayer of Manasses is held to be a deuterocanonical book by many Christians and is held to be Apocryphal by others. This reading is from the Holy Bible, King James Version 1611 which contains the Apocrypha separate from both the Old and New Testament. — Summary by David Shamp
